Award-winning advertising and marketing firm specializing in promotional products

We listen. We care. We deliver. On brand. On time.

Eco-Friendly Products

Our online shop provides you with a vast array of sustainably manufactured and eco-friendly products that will make your campaign a success.

Your Goals Become Our Goals

Our service is personalized. We become part of your team so we can recommend cutting-edge products that will elevate your brand image, making you look like superstars.

Our Team

Our award-winning well-educated team brings decades of experience in promotional marketing and advertising. Six Twenty Six has been a top producer in Arizona since October 1998 and in the IPROMOTEu global community since August 2017.

Sustainability in mind

Six Twenty Six spotlights eco-friendly products when recommending engagement ideas for programs; and when available, Six Twenty Six reports back the water & carbon emissions savings, as well as landfill waste reduction.

Easy on you.

We make the ordering process easy with our online catalogs and new, trending, and innovative ideas.

It's not just a promotional product.

We take pride in our ingenuity and resourcefulness and help you connect with your audience, leaving them with a lasting impression, brand recognition, and the desire to coming back for more.

Small enough to care. Big enough to impact.

We provide you with the high-end personal attention of a boutique agency but with the global reach and customer service of a large company.

Safety is our top priority

Six Twenty Six monitors safety regulations and stays current with the latest product trends through continuing professional education. We are meticulous about sourcing safely manufactured products that meet industry compliance standards. We guarantee the safety of every product we sell. We ensure that every promotional item you attach to your brand represents impeccable values.

Our Clients

Relationships matter, and we value our relationship with our clients.
